EL CENIZO

1952

Eagle Pass High School

Eagle Pass, Texas

FOREWORD

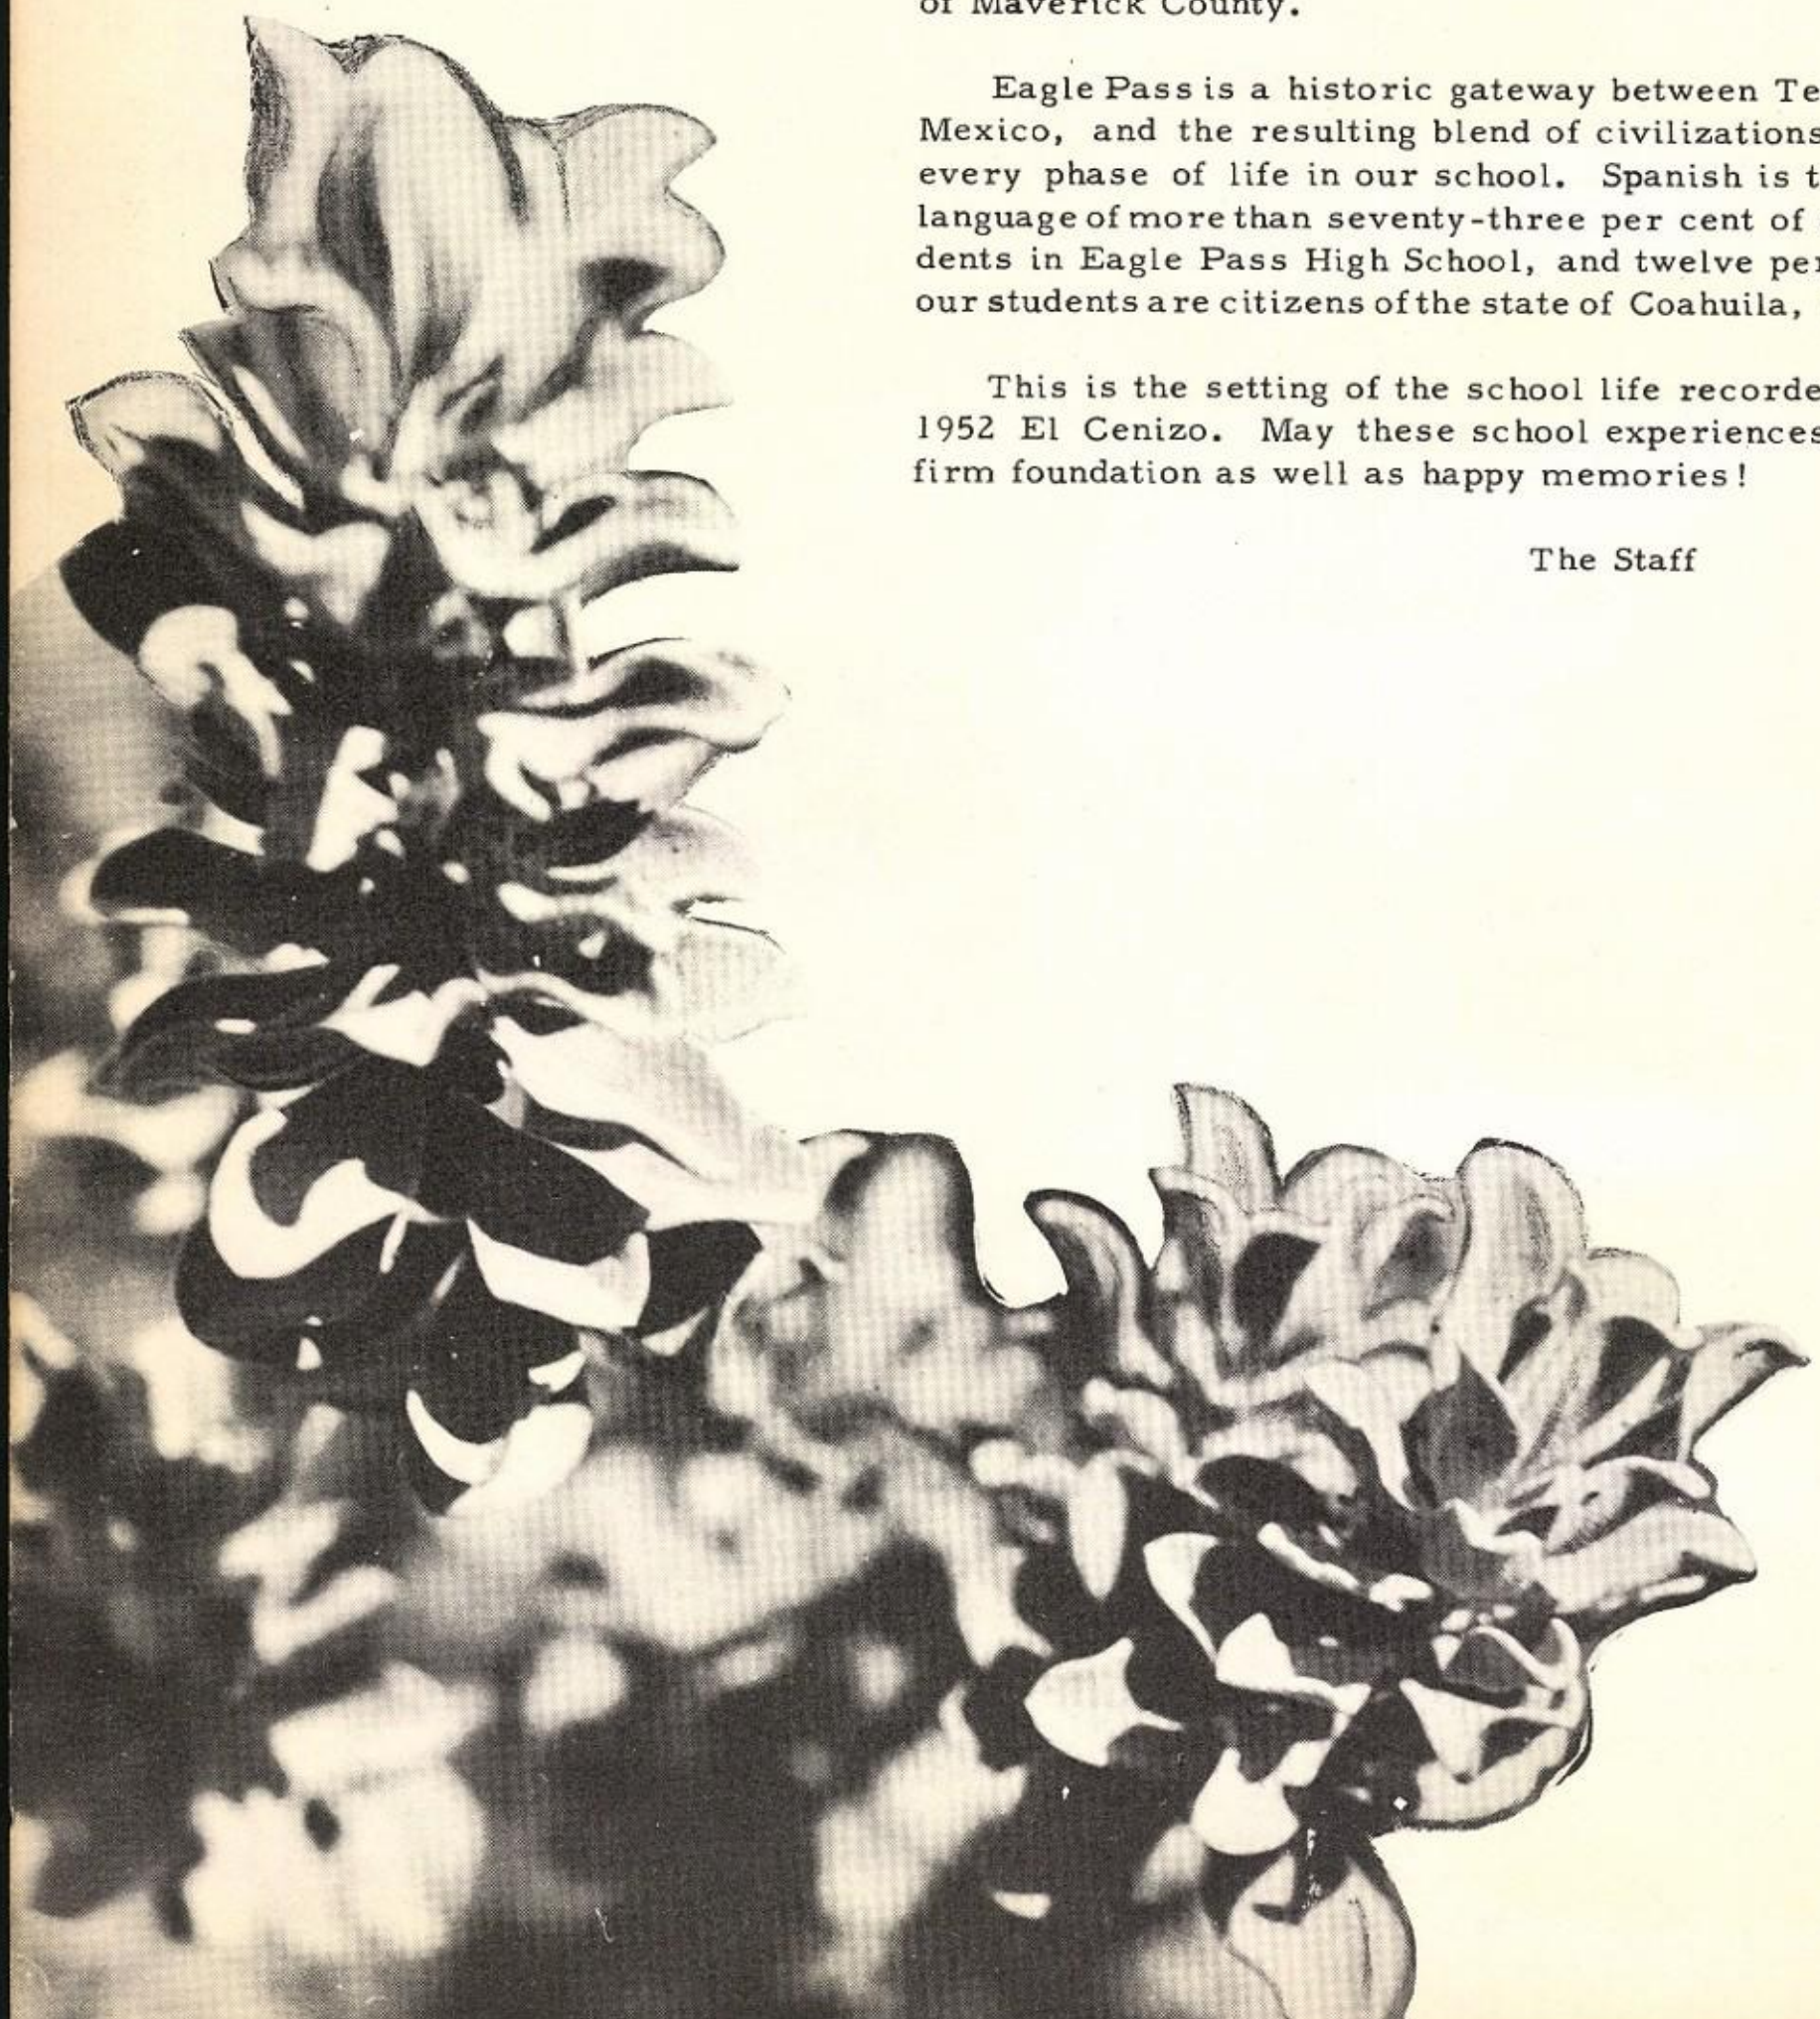
The yearbook of Eagle Pass High School has since 1939 been entitled El Cenizo, the familiar sagebrush with gray-green foliage and rosy-violet bloom that we see among cactus, agave, yucca, and huisache along the highways.

El Cenizo typifies the life of this region, just as the senior show, Western Jamboree, reminded us of the old West and the new--mounted cowboys and modern farm machinery--tilled, irrigated tracts interspersed with the simi-arid sheep and cattle ranches long characteristic of Maverick County.

Eagle Pass is a historic gateway between Texas and Mexico, and the resulting blend of civilizations affects every phase of life in our school. Spanish is the home language of more than seventy-three per cent of our students in Eagle Pass High School, and twelve per cent of our students are citizens of the state of Coahuila, Mexico.

This is the setting of the school life recorded in our 1952 El Cenizo. May these school experiences build a firm foundation as well as happy memories!

The Staff



EAGLE PASS INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

C. J. GARLAND, Superintendent
EAGLE PASS, TEXAS

Dear Students:

The theme of this year's annual being plants and flowers native to this area, I am reminded of the characteristics of these plants which have a significance when applied to people.

The Cenizo, for example, is usually rather drab in appearance, but latent within it is the bud that will give one of nature's most beautiful color blends when the area receives one of our infrequent rains. So within each of us, perhaps, there may be that human spark which when properly nourished will have a profound effect on the individual himself as well as on the larger community.

If we as teachers have helped to develop this latent power in you as students, we will have accomplished our mission.

Sincerely,

C. J. Garland

To the students and graduates of 1952:

As the school year draws to a close, we look back and realize that it has been very happy and eventful. "El Cenizo" portrays many of these occasions and our memory fills in the ones left out by the yearbook.

It is my sincere wish that the graduates have as wonderful a time after graduation as they have had this the senior year.

Sincerely yours,

C. A. Landrum
